

The Maui Apple Users Society

With Apple technology, the possibilities are endless. People from all walks of life who use Apple technologies have joined together in user groups to share, collaborate, educate and network among their peers.

Make new friends.

Meet people who share your interests and passions. Find a group of friends whom you can talk about Mac, or just hang out.

Find local resources.

The internet provides many answers and resources. However, nothing beats the personal connection of meeting with local users.

Get support and enhance your skills.

You've got questions. We've got answers. Enhance your skills to the next level. We help you work smarter and play harder.

Volunteer in the community.

User groups can help make a difference in your community. We offer volunteer opportunities, including technology recycling.

Teach.

Maybe you've got some of the answers. User groups are a rewarding way to share your expertise- and help you make new contacts.

Tell the world.

Perhaps you're passionate about the world's greatest technology. We gives you the chance to tell the world - or at least your community.
